5. Courses for language practice

The most language courses are offered by the language center of the University.

Please always ask in advance the student advisory service or the administration office of the department of General Linguistics, if it is possible to use a certain course as language course. This is important, because some language courses are part of a module and must not be used individually, you need to do the whole module.

Here you find the actual module handbook of the language center:

https://www.uni-bamberg.de/fileadmin/abt-studium/Modulhandbuecher/Sprachenzentrum/MHB-SZ.pdf

Please notice that the language center has different registration deadline for the exams, you have to register for the exams at the beginning of the semester, please ask the lecturer of your course.

We will not support you in getting courses from other departments recognized if you have not asked at the beginning of the semester.
